

“Wherever there is a human being, there is an opportunity for kindness.”
—Seneca

There exists in all of us the desire and opportunity to leave a lasting legacy—to create a stronger community, enhance support for children and families, improve healthcare, enhance recreational programs or expand cultural growth. If you have a desire to make tomorrow a better place, there is a charity listed in this publication that can empower you to make those dreams a reality.

What is a Planned Gift?

Planned giving is a way to support your favorite charities as well as support your community. A planned gift can be implemented during your lifetime, or as part of your estate. Anyone, regardless of income level, can make a tremendous impact through a planned gift to a charity. It is a relatively simple process and can help minimize taxes for yourself and/or your beneficiaries.

It is important to discuss your plans with your professional advisors, such as your attorney, accountant, trust officer, or financial advisor to make sure that your charitable intent is carried out in the best manner for you, your beneficiaries and the charitable organization.

In addition to making an impact and helping your charity, there can be many benefits to the donor in making a planned gift:

- Reduce income tax
- Reduce or eliminate estate taxes on property in your estate
- Reduce or eliminate built in capital-gain tax on appreciated property, such as stock or real estate that you have owned for more than one year
- Increase your income by receiving a stream of payments for your life and another life, such as your spouse.

Bequest and Devise

A bequest or a devise are the two most common types of planned gifts. A bequest is a gift of cash or stock and a devise is a gift of real estate—both of which are made through your will to the charities that are most important to you. There are many ways to give a bequest or devise; some of the common types and verbiage used in a bequest or devise gift are listed below:

Percentage Bequest

“I give to (legal name of charity*) _____% of my estate to be used for its exempt purposes.”

General Bequest

“I give to (legal name of charity*) the sum of $ _____ to be used for its exempt purposes.”

Residuary Bequest

“I give to (legal name of charity*) the rest, residue and remainder of my estate to be used for its exempt purposes.”

Contingent Bequest

“If (name of beneficiary) predeceases me or disclaims, I give such property to (legal name of charity*) to be used for its exempt purposes.”

*For your assistance, we have listed the legal names of many local charities in this booklet.

Gifts may also be restricted for a specific purpose. Please see the charity listings for options of restricting your gift to a certain area or project.

Other gifts

There are several other ways to make a planned gift to support your charity of choice, such as life insurance policies, retirement accounts, trusts, gift annuities and other life income gifts. Please see your financial advisor for more specific information on any of these types of donations.

Mid-State Technical College Foundation

(Legal Name: Mid-State Technical College Foundation)

The Mid-State Technical College Foundation, established in 1979, is a non-profit organization dedicated to supporting and promoting the activities of the students and educational programs of MSTC.

Starting students on the road to success represents an important investment in central Wisconsin. While the state is able to provide funding for primary College operations, the academic opportunities and enhancements that make MSTC exceptional come from private sources of support. Financial access to higher education becomes increasingly difficult as public aid diminishes, tuition increases, and the cost of childcare, textbooks, transportation, and living expenses make it more challenging to attend college. Gifts to the MSTC Foundation support higher education and life-long learning by providing funds for student scholarships and grants.
