LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

As I reflect on my year as Board President of Marshfield Area United Way, I find myself genuinely humbled and deeply grateful to have played even a small role in an organization this well run and this well supported by our community.

What stood out most to me in 2025 wasn't a single event or milestone. It was something more meaningful: the realization that the foundation of MAUW is strong enough that we could spend real energy not just on the work of today, but on thoughtfully shaping what this organization will look like for years to come. We invested time in strategic planning and revisited our vision and values -- the kinds of conversations that only healthy, grounded organizations get to have. That's not something to take for granted.

One of the things that drew me to United Way and keeps me here is how it operates. This isn't just a feel-good organization. It's a smart one. The board, the committees, the staff -- all the people involved are talented, community minded, and deeply intentional about how resources are directed. MAUW serves as a conduit, carefully vetting and supporting local partner nonprofits that carry out the essential work keeping our community whole. When you give to United Way, you're not simply donating to a cause you're investing in a system built to maximize impact.

That's why I keep coming back to this: dollar for dollar, hour for hour, I genuinely believe that donating to or volunteering with United Way offers the greatest rate of return of anything you can do for this community. The reach is broad, the infrastructure is sound, and the people stewarding your investment care about getting it right.

I'm proud of what we accomplished together in 2025, and I'm honored to continue serving on the board and in other capacities going forward. To the staff, volunteers, donors, and partner organizations: thank you. The work you do every day is why this community is worth investing in.

Andrew Wilkins
2025 Marshfield Area United Way Board President

Kyle, a local teenager, began to experience increased anxiety and depression related to significant family stress. To help him navigate these stressors, he began therapy with Children's Wisconsin Counseling. He shared his worries about his father's serious health conditions. He also had distress due to his older sibling's considerable mental health issues which included multiple psychiatric hospitalizations for suicidality. Kyle often felt misunderstood by his peers and torn between wanting a closer relationship with his family members, yet recognizing their choices were negatively impacting his emotional and physical health.

Kyle's resilience grew with the support of his mother, mother's partner, and his after-school job where he excelled. He used therapy sessions to process his complex feelings of sadness and grief and to solve relationship struggles. He started to build healthier friendships and developed stronger relationships with coaches, teachers, and members of his community. By the end of therapy, he shared that he no longer experienced anxiety attacks, reported no symptoms of depression, and was excited about his future. He plans to attend college with scholarships he earned and feels that his personal struggles as a teen will make him a better educator in the future.

Together, Children's Wisconsin and United Way provide personalized support to help ensure everyone can live their healthiest lives.

PREPARED FOR THE FUTURE

At the start of the summer, Sam's caregiver shared a concern: in the past, he would be excited to join a new activity, but once there, his interest and participation would fade. She worried the same might happen at the Boys & Girls Club.

When Sam joined, he was quiet and reserved, spending much of his time building with Legos on his own. Over time, with encouragement from his Program Leaders and the variety of programs offered, like STEAM projects that featured creative building challenges, he began to connect more with his peers. What started as solo Lego projects grew into collaborative builds where Sam shared ideas and worked alongside others. His confidence grew as he found programs that truly fit his interests.

By the middle of summer, Sam's growth was impossible to miss. The program team members regularly shared with his caregiver how well he was doing, and she was amazed. The Club had become a place he wanted to be, so much so that, with full choice over his schedule, Sam only missed one day the entire summer when he was home sick. "It's always an option for him," his caregiver told staff, "and he chooses to go." At the Boys & Girls Club, the mission is to help all young people realize their full potential. For Sam, that means discovering not just what he enjoys, but the confidence to share it with others.

Together, the Boys and Girls Club and United Way gives every young person more opportunities to thrive.

FINANCIAL SECURITY

Our community is stronger when every neighbor has a safe home, a living wage, and a pathway to financial security. Together with communities, Marshfield Area United Way creates pathways to financial security for all.

1,232 REQUESTS FOR FOOD ASSISTANCE WERE MET IN 2025

98 INDIVIDUALS ABLE TO REMAINED HOUSED WITH ASSISTANCE

72 INDIVIDUALS ESTABLISHED NEW HOUSING WITH ASSISTANCE

In 2025, a local family first connected with Soup or Socks through the Best Snow Day event, seeking help to ensure their children had warm winter clothing. Soon after, they faced a series of unexpected hardships that made an already difficult season even more challenging.

While one of their children was hospitalized, the family's refrigerator and freezer stopped working, causing them to lose all the food they had at home. Not long afterward, one parent lost their job. Soup or Socks was able to provide ongoing food assistance, helping the family keep food on the table during this time of uncertainty. The mother continues to express her gratitude for the support they received, sharing that having reliable access to food eased one of the greatest sources of stress during a difficult chapter in their lives.

Today, both parents are employed again, and with the help of Soup or Socks and United Way the family is on a more stable path to financial security.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteers play a vital role in Marshfield Area United Way's work in the community. United Way would not be able to accomplish all that we do throughout the year without the generosity and dedication of more than 1,300 volunteers donating nearly 10,000 hours of service. Whether you served on our board, a committee or helped support one of our programs or fundraising events, thank you for supporting our mission!
